

A Guided Tour of Rothamsted Research Centre

The Hertfordshire Agricultural Society was delighted to host a tour of the Rothamsted Research laboratories and glasshouses on Wednesday 18 March. The tour was open to members, guests and sponsors and was attended to full capacity. The tour was fascinating with the Head of Horticultural and Controlled Environment and a Chemical Ecologist guiding the groups through insect reactions to plant pheromones and enhanced plant growth techniques using carefully controlled propagation chambers! We hope to organise several other events over the next year and if you are interested in coming along please email us at Society@hertsshow.com; let us know your name, interests and whether or not you are already a member of the Hertfordshire Agricultural Society and we will try to tailor our events for you.
